ecOTOXICOMIC 2017

The organizing committee is pleased to invite you to sponsorship the First International Conference on Microbial Ecotoxicology.

Microbial Ecotoxicology is an emerging branch of Science at the crossroad between microbial ecology, microbial toxicology, ecotoxicology, physics and chemistry. It responds to an increasing demand worldwide of the politics and society because of the threat on environmental and human health caused by intense anthropogenic activities.

Held from November 21st to 24th in the city center of Lyon the Conference will gather for the first time microbial ecotoxicologists from around the world. World Renowned keynote speakers from different countries such as USA, Canada, France, Germany, Portugal or Greece have already confirmed their attendance.

This event will be a unique opportunity to enlarge your network and present your activities to a large panel of scientists.

There are various ways to sponsor EcotoxicoMic 2017 and to increase your visibility : logo, banner, roll-up, brochure, items, awards and grants for young researchers, exhibition booths, session sponsoring with a 5 minute slot to present your activities. Please, don't hesitate to contact us for more details, write to ecotoxicomic@sciencesconf.org.
